

Google Quiz

Sr	Questions	Answers Choice
1	What must you type into Google so that your exact phrase is found by Google?	A. Simply type the exact phrase you want B. Use * on either side of the phrase C. Use quotation marks on either side of the phrase D. Begin the phrase with a slash mark
2	What is the quickest way to find the definition of computer using Google?	A. Use the browser to go to www.dictionary.com. B. Type <code>define:computer</code> C. Type "What is a computer?" into Google
3	What do you type into the Google search box if you only want to search the contents of one website? Example: A high school senior only wants to access admissions info for Stanford University.	A. This is not possible to do. B. Type the following into Google: <code>admission site: www.stanford.edu</code> C. Go directly to Stanford's site and type in their search box.
4	A user wants to search "virus" but does not want to see search results related to a computer virus. What must they type into the Google search box?	A. Type "virus, not computer" B. This is not possible to do. C. Type "virus -computer" D. Type "virus, 0 computer" E. Type "only the word virus"
5	You can create an attractive website on Google of your family or business for FREE. Google provides you with all of the templates and an easy 1-2-3 step process.	A. True B. False C. None of above
6	You do not need a calculator if you have access to Google; you simply need to know a few simple calculator operators and Google will act as a quick calculator, even raise a number to a certain power (as well as perform measurement conversions) in a flash.	A. False. You need to go to the calculator tool on your operating system. B. True C. None of above
7	You want to purchase a DVD player but you only want to spend between $75-$150. What would you type into the Google search box so that it only searches within this range?	A. You cannot do this. You must go to a site that sells DVD players and do this. B. Type "DVD Players between $75 and $150" C. <code>[#]...[#]</code> is the operator for this. So you would type "DVD player $75...$150" D. , is the operator for this. So you would type "DVD player $75,$150"
8	Google's "I'm Feeling Lucky" takes you the first web page returned for your query.	A. False, it takes you to a random page that Google selects. B. True C. None of above
9	If you find yourself in a strange city and you need to know the name of a local pizza restaurant, you only need to send Google a text message, type "pizza" followed by the zip code and you will have your answer in seconds.	A. True B. False C. None of above
10	Google has a service that enables you to get all of your voice messages emailed and/or texted to you for FREE?	A. True B. False, but they did have this at one time C. None of above