

Commercial Geography (English Medium) - ICOM Part 2 Commercial Geography Chapter 2 Short Questions Preparation

Q1. Write down important fishing grounds of the world ?

Ans 1: the major commercial fish grounds of the world are as following:

- i. North-west Pacific Ocean region.
- ii. North-west Atlantic ocean region.
- iii. North East Atlantic Ocean region.
- iv. North-East Pacific Ocean region.
- v. West central coast of South America.
- vi. Northern Coast of Indian ocean.

Q2. Write down fishing boundaries of north-eastern pacific region ?

Ans 1: North-eastern Pacific region extends from Alaska in north to coastal areas of California in the south. It is fourth largest fishing ground in the world.

Q3. What factors govern the distribution of fisheries in the world ?

Ans 1: The natural habitat helpful for the development of commercial fishing is as following.

Abundant supply of plankton-basic food of fish-vast shallow continental shelf, indented or broken coast line, calm water, cold water, climate and meeting regions of cold / warm ocean currents are in fact suitable physical factors for best nourishment of ocean fish.

Q4. In the world, at what rate, use of fish is increasing ?

Ans 1: Due to fast population increase in the world, fish consumption is increasing at the rate of 6 percent per year.

Q5. What is basic food of the fish ?

Ans 1: The basic food of the fish is plankton. A vast living, swimming, drifting masses of tiny plants and animals that comprises the most abundant life forms in the oceans. Planktons are of two types Zoo plankton and Phyto plankton.

Q6. What is the basic food of the tuna, blue fish cod, haddock and sole fish ?

Ans 1: Tiny ocean fish is the basic food of the tuna, blue fish cod, haddock and sole fish.

Q7. In the Southern Hemisphere, which is most important fishing ground ?

Ans 1: In the Southern Hemisphere west-central coast of South America is one of most important fishing ground in the world. In this region Peru and Chile are important countries in fish production.

Q8. Where does lay abundant fish resources of the world ?

Ans 1: Oceans are main resources of the fish in the world.

Q9. Write down fishing boundaries of North-Eastern Atlantic (western Europe) region ?

Ans 1: Western Europe's fishing region extends from Barents sea in the north to by of Biscay in the south. In this region North sea is most important fishing ground.

Q10. Write down most important fishing ground of the world ?

Ans 1: North-Western Pacific region, which extends from Bearing sea in the north to the East China sea in the south, is the world's most important and greatest fishing region. Fishing in this region is carried out by the countries China, Japan, Russian Federation, North and South Korea, Taiwan, Vietnam and Thailand. In this region China is most important, which ranks at the top in Asia and in the world.
