

Commercial Geography (English Medium) - ICOM Part 2 Commercial Geography Chapter 4 Short Questions Preparation

Q1. Name out most important animal among all domesticated animals of the world ?

Ans 1: Rearing cattle is most important among all animals. The cow has prominent position among all animals.

Q2. Which continent is at the top in keeping horses ?

Ans 1: North America ranks first in keeping horses.

Q3. In which continent, buffalo has more importance ?

Ans 1: In the continents of Asia and Africa, buffalo has more importance, while in the continent of Asia its homeland is Indo-Pakistan, sub-continent.

Q4. Write down economic importance of goats ?

Ans 1: Goats are reared for mutton, milk and skins. But Angora and Kashmiri goats are world famous for their silky wool, for manufacturing high quality products.

Q5. From which country of the world, sheep rearing was started ?

Ans 1: Sheep were probably domesticated about 11 thousand years ago in what is now northern Iraq, and they are now domesticated throughout the world.

Q6. Rearing of animals is what type of economics activity ?

Ans 1: Rearing or herding is primary economic activity.

Q7. In the world, which country is at the top in cattle rearing ?

Ans 1: Brazil leads in the world in keeping maximum number of cattle -- cow.

Q8. In the Tundra region, which animal is more valuable ?

Ans 1: In the Tundra region, reindeer is more valuable animal

Q9. In how many countries buffalo is domesticated ?

Ans 1: Buffalo is domesticated in 43 countries of the world, while India ranks first in buffalo domestication.

Q10. In the world, how much income is derived from animals, from the total agriculture sector ?

Ans 1: Animals furnish about 28 percent of the world's total value of agricultural products.
