

Economics - ICS Part 1 Economics English Medium Chapter 1 Short Questions Test

Economics - 103 Fait Economics English Medium Chapter Short Questions Test
Q1. Define Luxuries
Ans 1: The goods which are necessitices or comforts but people having extra money want to get those are called luxuries. e.g. diamonds, expnesive carptes
Q2. What is postive and normative economics.
Ans 1: Positive . Positive eeconomics deals with facts and thiere intererelationship as they exist. ie.e to expaln how the thing are.
Ans 2: Normative economcis; uses value judgement and personal opinions about what the economy.
Q3. Utility depend uponknowledge define
Ans 1: Two hundered years ago petroleum had little utility becaus epeople did not know is use. Acouter has no utility for person who know it use.
Q4. Write the principles of Micro economcis .
Ans 1: Principles of microeconomics are few, but they are powereful and general study tools. opportuinty cost diminishg utility, diminisht terms, marginal cost.
Q5. Define Consumer goods.
Ans 1: These are the goods which is can satisfy human wants direct tey have utility, these include thinsg like rbread, car, cycle pen shoes, purrse etc.
Q6. Write the name of Basis of economic problem.
Ans 1: 1- End (want) 2- End or Wants 3- Means 18 4- Means
Q7. Difference between marshall's view and Robbins' view.
Ans 1: Marshall's view : Marshalll includes only material aspect of human welafae. So, scope of econoics is limited.

Ans 2: Robbin's view: The concept of scarcity of reaources is the basis of the definition givne by Robbins.

Q8. Define Theoiry of consumere behaviour
Ans 1: The nature of human wants , laws of utility and consumer demand.
Q9. Define economics is a Social Science.
Ans 1: Social science mean subjects such as History, Political sCiecne, Socialogy P[sychology. etc.
Q10. Define Theoretical economics
Ans 1: Formulation of principles laws, theories which relate facts to each other.